Legislative Council Polls from South Graduates Constituency

Congress candidate Madhu G. Madegowda wins

Defeats nearest rival M.V. Ravishankar of BJP by over 12,000 votes after a marathon counting of over 29 hours

Mysuru, June 16 (RK&DM)- After perhaps the longest vote counting process in the electoral history of Mysuru that spanned over 29 hours, Congress candidate Madhu G. Madegowda emerged as the clear winner of the Legislative Council Polls from South Graduates Constituency this afternoon.

Mysuru Regional Commissioner Dr. G.C. Prakash, who is also the Returning Officer, made the official announcement declaring Madhu Madegowda as the victorious candidate at about 1.30 pm.

The non-stop counting process which began at 8 am yesterday (June 15) at Maharani's Women's Commerce and Management College on Valmiki Road, spilled over to today also as none of the 19 candidates in the fray managed to secure the 50 percent quota of the first preferential votes to be declared the winner.

After all the invalid votes were taken out of counting, the poll officials had set 46,803 first preferential votes as the quota for any candidate to be declared the winner. Though Madhu Madegowda, who had bagged the highest number of votes among all the 19 candidates, fell short by 808 votes of reaching the quota (46,083), the election officials decided to go for the count of second and other preferential votes until any of the candidate reached the quota, which process took such a long time.

Supporters celebrating the victory of Congress candidate Madhu G. Madegowda near the counting centre this afternoon.

Finally, Madhu Madegowda of the Congress, who maintained a steady lead since the beginning, won the election by reaching the set quota after the transfer of preferential votes.

He emerged victorious defeating his nearest rival M.V. Ravishankar of the BJP by a huge margin of about 12,000 votes.

This is the second straight loss for Ravishankar who managed to secure 33,878 votes, falling behind his Congress rival all throughout the counting. Ravishankar had lost against K.T. Srikantegowda of the JD(S) by a slender margin in the 2016 polls.

Returning Officer Dr. G.C. Prakash handed over the certificate of his election to Congress candidate Madhu Madegowda later in the afternoon, it is learnt.

JD(S) candidate H.K. Ramu (over 17,000 votes) came a distant third, with the party failing to retain the seat.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Language is the sign of the cultural life of a people, the index of its soul in thought and mind that stands behind and enriches its soul in action. Therefore, it is here that the phenomena and utilities of diversity may be most readily seized, more than in mere outward things; but these truths are important because they apply equally to the thing which it expresses and symbolises and serves as an instrument. Diversity of language is worth keeping because diversity of cultures and differentiation of soul-groups are worth keeping... without that diversity, life cannot have full play; for in its absence there is a danger, almost an inevitability of decline and stagnation.

The peace, well-being and settled order of the human world is a thing eminently to be desired as a basis for a great world culture, in which all humanity must be united; but neither of these unities, the outward or inward, ought to be devoid of an element even more important than peace, order and well-being — freedom and vigour of life, which can only be assured by variation and by the freedom of the group and of the individual. Not then a uniform unity, not a scientifically rigid, a beautifully neat and mechanical sameness, but a living oneness full of healthy freedom and variation is the ideal which we should keep in view and strive to get realised in man's future. — Sri Aurobindo in The Times of India

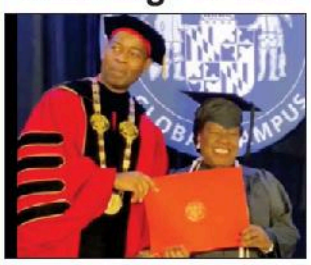
Woman earns bachelor's degree at the age of 82!



Maryland: Mae Beale, an 82-year-old Maryland woman achieved a long time dream by walking across the stage to accept her bachelor's degree.

She had a long career as a licensed practical nurse, returned to school in her late 70s to pursue a degree in business management from the University of Maryland Global Campus as a means of helping to grow her event planning business.

Beale said she was working as an LPN at Department of Health and Human Services' Centres when she was inspired to plan her new career. "When I was working at the Centres for Medicare and Medicaid Services, I organised some large events and everybody was impressed with it, so I started coordinating their IT information conferences," she said. She decided a few years ago to pursue her bachelor's degree to help her business. Beale, who celebrated her 82nd birthday recently, gifted herself a diploma.

Bees classified as fish under endangered species law

California : A ruling by a California appeals court had the unusual effect of classifying bees as fish under the State's endangered species law.

The case began in 2019, when the California Fish and Game Commission classified bumblebees as endangered, and agricultural groups successfully appealed to the Sacramento County Superior Court the following year to have the insects removed. The groups had argued that the bees could not be listed as endangered under the umbrella of invertebrates, because California's endangered species law from the 1970s explicitly defines invertebrates — animals without backbones — as "fish."

The 3rd District California Court of Appeals in Sacramento has now overturned the earlier decision, returning bees to the State's endangered list.

The court ruled that other non-aquatic invertebrates, such as snails, were already listed as endangered under the category of fish.

Plea to ply Vishwamanava Express from Mysuru to Hubballi between June 22 & 28

Sir,

The South Western Railway (SWR) website states that due to track doubling in Belagavi, Vishwamanava Express that runs between Mysuru and Belagavi has been cancelled from 22.6.2022 to 28.6.2022.

This decision is against the daily commuters who will be facing a lot of hardship. Hence, I request the SWR to operate Vishwamanava Express from Mysuru to Hubballi and back or Mysuru to Birur and back between June 22 and 28.

To understand the ground situation, the SWR authorities may inspect the train from Mandya to Bengaluru City and from Bengaluru to Mysuru.

On behalf of hundreds of travellers, I request the Railways to immediately restore and operate this train.

I also appeal to Mysuru-Kodagu Pratap Simha and Mandya MP Sumalatha Ambarish to talk to the Union Railway Minister and get the approval to operate Vishwamanava Express from Mysuru - Hubballi or Mysuru - Birur and back.

I hope an immediate decision will be given for operating the train for the cancelled dates.

Cases against ill-treatment of elders will be booked under non-bailable section

Senior Judge Devaraj Bhute flags off World Elder Abuse Awareness Day rally

Mysuru, June 16 (PM&SSM)- "Ill-treating, neglect, abuse and assault on elders starts from their respective houses. This is the greatest tragedy in the society and cases against the abuse of elderly people will be lodged under the non-bailable section," said Senior Civil Judge and District Legal Services Authority (DLSA) Member-Secretary Devaraj Bhute.

He was speaking at the World Elder Abuse Awareness Day (WEAAD) programme, jointly organised by the Department for the Empowerment of Differently Abled and Senior Citizens, Women and Child Development Department, District Legal Services Authority (DLSA), National Service Scheme (NSS) and Senior Citizens Helpline in city yesterday.

Over 40 NSS volunteers from University of Mysore (UoM), Maharaja's College, Maharani's College, Yuvaraja's College and other Colleges took out an awareness rally which was flagged off by Devaraj Bhute from at the Dufferin Clock Tower near Devaraja Market. The rally passed through K.R. Circle, D. Devaraj Urs Road and Chamaraja Wadiyar Circle before culminating at the starting point.

Speaking on the occasion Devaraj said that it is very disappointing to observe an awareness day against elder abuse. "Before ill-treating elders, one must keep this in mind that one day everyone will grow old. When people turn 60-70 years, they become children. They must be looked after with a lot of affection and care or else they may undergo depression," he said.

Stating that our history and culture tell us to respect and love elders, the senior Judge gave examples on how Lord Sri Ram kept his promise he gave to his father by going to 14 years in exile and how Shravana Kumar carried his blind parents on his shoulders. "Remember the sacrifices parents did when we were young. Respecting and loving parents in their old age is our responsibility," he added.

Elder Helpline: 14567

District Disabled Welfare Officer Malini said that senior citizens are facing criticism. They are not in a situation to speak out about the abuse they are facing as they fear on how they might be treated later.

"It is a crime to ill-treat elders. If any senior citizens face such problems, they may call the Elder Helpline toll free number 14567 any time," she said.

UoM NSS Coordinator Dr. M.B. Suresh, who too spoke, said that he read a news item in a newspaper which stated that in Kolar district about 55,000 complaints were received on Elder Helpline.

"I wonder what might be the number of complaints in other districts and States, if Kolar alone records such a huge number of complaints," he said.

Eight members led by Keerthi Raj and Rubin Sanjay of Rangantaranga, Mysuru, staged a 20 minutes street-play with messages against abuse of elders. The play was staged for five times in short intervals.

NSS Programme Officers Dr. Govindegowda of Maharani's Arts and Commerce College for Women, Dr. P.S. Madhusudhan of Maharaja College and Ramesh Babu of Maharani's Science College for Women and others were present.

Illegal water connections in Urban Local Bodies to be regularised

Bengaluru, June 16 (KMS&DM)- Taking note of increasing number of illegal drinking water connections, the State Government has decided to legalise all illegal piped water connections in Urban Local Bodies (ULBs) under the 'Akrama-Sakrama' scheme.

Announcing this to presspersons at Bengaluru on Wednesday, Urban Development Minister Byrathi Basavaraj said that those having illegal piped drinking water connections in the limits of all ULBs in the State, can get their connections legalised by submitting documents such as Aadhaar card and an affidavit.

Pointing out that meters will be installed once the connection is legalised, he said that the citizens should pay their monthly water bills at their respective ULBs.

Noting that the revenues of ULBs in some States has drastically increased following legalisation of water connections, the Minister said that the same model is being introduced in the State and it is hoped that ULBs in Karnataka too would augment their revenues through 'Akrama-Sakrama' of water connections.

Basavaraj further said that a Rs.9,400 crore Master Plan is on the anvil for addressing drinking water issues in all ULBs and the Government is working on the Centre's plans for 24x7 drinking water project in local bodies.

'Karmayogi Kayaka Day' by farmers on June 20 to draw PM's attention

Mysuru, June 16 (RKB&DM)- In order to draw the attention of the Prime Minister during his visit to the city for the International Day of Yoga event, farmers will observe June 20 as 'Karmayogi Kayaka Day' on that day and sell farm produce in front of Mahatma Gandhi's bust opposite the city Law Courts Complex, demanding Minimum Support Price (MSP) for all farm produce.

Announcing this at a press meet here yesterday, Karnataka Sugarcane Growers Association President Kurubur Shantakumar said that selling of farm produce on the street is aimed at drawing the attention of the PM for introducing a law that ensures MSP to all farm produce. Urging the Government to announce FRP (Fair and Remunerative Price) for farm produce so that the farmers can have a guaranteed income, Shantakumar said that the selling is also a mark of protest to register the sorry plight of farmers.

Charging the Banks of not lending loans to farmers for default on earlier loan repayments, he urged the RBI to drop the CIBIL score (it is a three-digit numeric summary of an individual's Credit repayment history) clause for availing farm loans.

Setting a 10-day deadline to the RBI to drop CIBIL clause, Shantakumar warned of laying siege to the RBI Office at Bengaluru if no action is taken on the demand.

Association office-bearers Devaraj, Shankar, Bhagyaraj, Venkatesh, Nagaraj and others were present at the press meet.

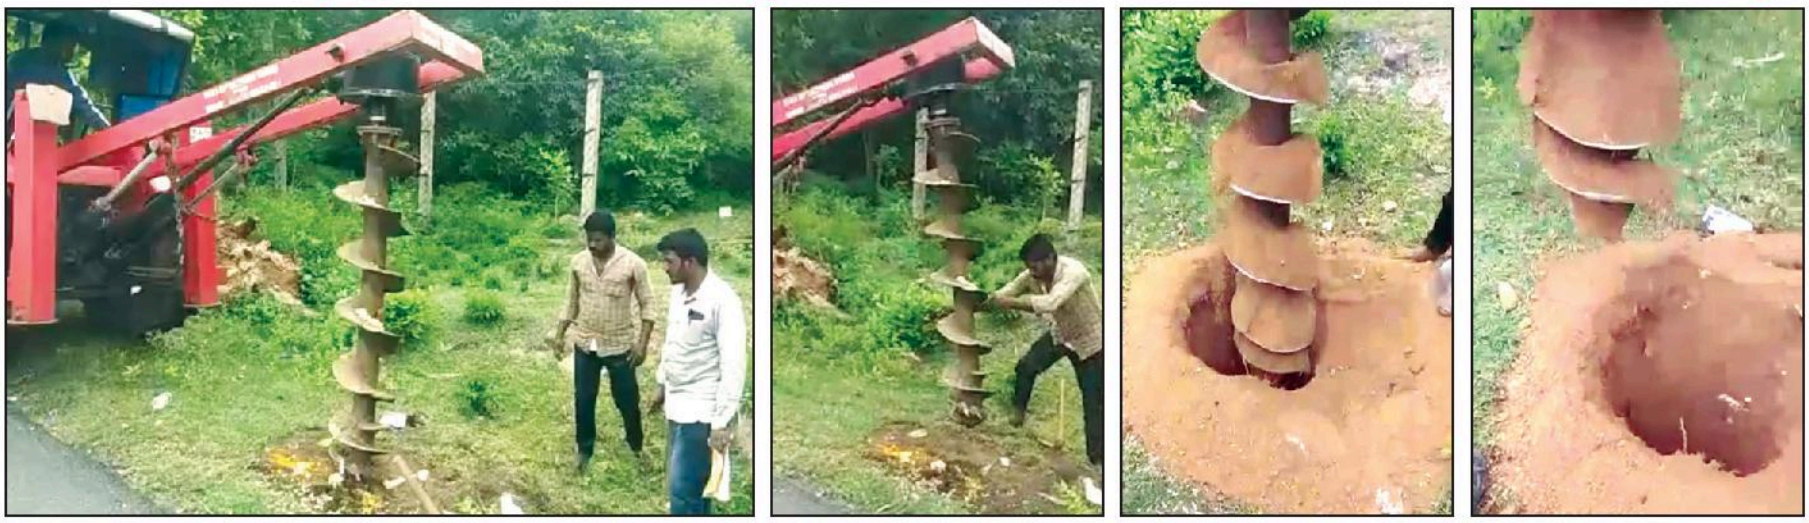
Special focus for Prime Minister Modi's visit

Drilling work for street-lights on Chamundi Hill irks green activists

150 electricity poles to come up from Thavarekatte to Chamundi village



Mysuru, June 16 (MTY,RK&BCT)- The move to drill deep holes to install street-lights by the side of the road that leads to Chamundi Hill ahead of Prime Minister Narendra Modi's scheduled visit has irked environment activists.

The District Administration has taken up the works to erect street- lights from the foot of Chamundi Hill right to the top and heavy drilling machines are doing the work as the installation has to be completed before June 20.

In all, 150 poles will be erected from the Chamundi foothill to the Chamundi Gram Panchayat limits and all the poles will sport LED lights. Installation of lights is for the public good so that villagers and the public can travel on the road after dark, officials said.

Eco-sensitive zone

The drilling works have been taken up right next to the fencing of Chamundi Hill Reserve Forest. "Officers have now resorted to digging deep inside a Reserve Forest that too at a time when landslides have occurred atop the Hill and they have still not been restored," S. Shylajesha, an environmental activist, told Star of Mysore.

"Chamundi Hill is a Reserve Forest and comes under the administration of the Forest Department. When we questioned the officers who are doing the work, they claim that they have written permission from the Forest Department. In fact, there must not be any digging or land-altering activity inside a Reserve Forest and there are many High Court and Supreme Court judgements in this regard," he said.

The eco-sensitive Chamundi Hill already has loose soil due to which a couple of landslides have occurred. "Have they taken any inputs from the earth scientists before drilling holes? Once the poles are dug, poles will be installed and bright lights will be fixed. This is in clear violation of the Forest Act and a classic case of fence eating the crop," Shylajesha regretted.

Outside Reserve Forest boundary

Deputy Conservator of Forests (DCF) (territorial) Kamala Karikalan said that the space for the poles is being dug up outside the Reserve Forest boundary. "The road belongs to the Public Works Department (PWD) and the officials might have taken up the works for the public good. If they are digging inside the Reserve Forest, then permission has to be taken from the Forest Department. The issue has not come to my notice till now and the departmental jurisdiction has to be examined," she clarified.

Meanwhile, LED lights are being installed on Chamundi Hill Road from Thavarekatte to Chamundi village. Every 20-metre space is being drilled to erect electricity poles and the works have been taken up jointly by the Zilla Panchayat and Chamundeshwari Electricity Supply Corporation (CESC).

"At many places, we are encountering rocks and BSNL cables while digging. We will seek information on the cable route from BSNL officers and proceed to drill so that the process does not damage the cables," PWD Assistant Executive Engineer Chikkanna said.

MP on a mission mode to make VVIP's visit successful

Clears obstructing tree branches, removes illegal hoardings, debris from roadsides

Mysuru, June 16 (MTY, LNY & BCT)- With Prime Minister Narendra Modi visiting Mysuru on June 20 and 21, MP Pratap Simha has turned into a hyperactive mode to make the VVIP's visit a grand success.

The MP is involving himself in works that include erection of street-lights from Kurubarahalli Circle to the top of Chamundi Hill, clearing roadside tree branches, clearing of hoardings and inspecting the beautification works.

Seeing the MP instructing workers and officers on the road, many people stopped by to compliment him.

Armed with a team of officials and workers, Pratap Simha has taken up the removal of roadside tree branches that obstruct the roadside views right from the foot of Chamundi Hill to the Temple premises. He has instructed Forest Department officers to clear the branches and to enable PM's cavalcade to move smoothly.

He has asked the officials from the PWD to restore the concrete retaining wall at places where it has broken. This work too has been taken up from the Thavarekatte Junction till the Chamundi village. Broken stones are being restored and bound with concrete to bring the retaining wall back to its original shape.

Special focus will be on the route that will be taken by the PM's cavalcade and as such, the road from the Mysore Airport at Mandakalli to Hotel Radisson Blu Plaza on M.G. Road — where the PM would stay overnight — is being rid of almost all hoardings. Pratap Simha has teamed up with the officers and staff from the MCC and is removing all illegal hoardings on this particular road and also on the Hunsur Road till Hinkal.

Gas cutters are being used to bring down the hoardings so that they cannot be set up again. "None of the hoardings has permission and MCC does not get a rupee's revenue. We are removing all such hoardings," Simha told reporters. After the metal hoardings are cut, they are sent to scrapyard and the income generated sales is distributed among workers.

Yesterday, District Minister S.T. Somashekar, along with the MP and several elected representatives, inspected Hotel Radisson Blu Plaza on M.G. Road, where the PM will stay for the night after his arrival in the city on June 20 and the roads surrounding the Palace and the PM's route of travel.

Mysore Airport to be developed into International in two years

Minister Somanna says works have begun at an estimated cost of Rs. 1,820 crore

File photo

Mysuru, June 16 (KMS&BCT)- The Mysore Airport at Mandakalli will be developed into an International Airport in the next two years. Both the Centre and State Governments will fulfil the task, said Housing and Infrastructure Minister V. Somanna.

V. Somanna

Pratap Simha

Speaking to reporters in Bengaluru yesterday, the Minister said that there are grand plans to develop various airports in Karnataka and the Mysore Airport will get a particular focus. The upgraded Airports will boost those places as Industrial and Agricultural Hubs. In addition, new airports will be developed in Raichur, Davanagere and Koppal, he added.

The works on upgrading the Mysore Airport has begun with an estimated cost of Rs. 1,820 crore and the State Government has released Rs. 319.13 crore for land acquisition to increase the Airport runway length, he added.

At present, only ATR-72 type planes can land at Mysore Airport which has a length of 1,740 metres and a breadth of 30 metres. To facilitate the landing of bigger planes, the runway must be expanded to 2,750 metres and its breadth has to extend up to 45 metres. Over 240 acres of additional land is required for the expansion, the Minister noted.

The Mysore Airport is spread over 490 acres and the land will be acquired by the State Government and it will be handed over to the Airports Authority of India (AAI) for expansion. The expanded runway where planes like Boeing 737 and Airbus A320 can land, a full-fledged 10-lane Economic Corridor between Mysuru and Bengaluru and Container Corporation of India's (CONCOR) Multi-Modal Logistics Park at Kadakola are expected to be a game-changer for the region, he added.

"Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha is showing keen interest to develop the Mysuru Airport into international standards and it is with his help and coordination, that the Centre will release Rs. 1,500 crore for the runway expansion and other allied works. If Mysuru has an International Airport, the focus will naturally shift from Bengaluru to Mysuru as many industrialists will be looking to establish a base in Mysuru," Somanna said.

Like Mysuru, there are plans to upgrade the existing airports to bigger ones so that bigger planes can land at places like Vijayapura and this will herald an era of development in Karnataka. "At present, the focus of Industrialists in establishing industries is on Bengaluru. We want to change this and the focus will be on other cities like Mysuru, Vijayapura, Shivamogga and Bagalkot," the Minister said.

As far as the rest of the candidates are concerned, independent candidate Prasanna N.Gowda, who was backed by KRRS, DSS,AAP and a host of other organisations came fourth securing over 6,600 votes, while N.S. Vinay, who had contested as an independent after he failed to get the BJP ticket, came fifth (over 3,400 votes) and BSP backed candidate Dr. B.H. Channakeshavamurthy came sixth bagging over 2,600 votes. All other candidates including former MLA Vatal Nagaraj failed to reach even the four-figure mark.

With this win, Madhu Madegowda, who is the son of former Minister and former Mandya MP late G. Madegowda, has won the seat for the Congress party for the first time, thus breaking the dominance that the BJP and the JD(S) had till now on this politically significant Graduates Constituency which covers the districts of Mysuru, Mandya, Hassan and Chamarajanagar.

Madhu Madegowda is an Engineering Graduate from SJCE in Mysuru, passing out in the year 1985, it is learnt.

The ruling BJP and the main Opposition Congress had an equal share of the results of the four Constituencies that went to the polls on June 13, by winning two seats each. Apart from the South Graduates Constituency, the West Teachers and North West Graduates and Teachers Constituencies too went to the polls, the counting of which were also taken up yesterday at Belagavi.

While Basavaraj Horatti of the BJP won from West Teachers Constituency, comprising the districts of Uttara Kannada, Dharwad, Gadag and Haveri, for a record eighth straight term, Hanumanth Nirani of the BJP won from North West Graduates Constituency and Congress veteran Prakash Hukkeri from North West Teachers Constituency. The two North West Constituencies cover the districts of Belagavi, Bagalkot and Vijayapura.

Weekend concerts at Nadabrahma Sabha

Vidu. Kalavathi

Vid.Vinay

Mysuru, June 16- Nadabrahma Sangeetha Sabha has organised weekend programmes on June 18 and 19 as part of T.V. Srinivasan Memorial Concert sponsored by Smt. and Sri Nagarajan Srinivasan.

June 18 at 6 pm: Vidushi Kalavati Avadhoot will present vocal concert accompanied Vidu. Sindhu Suchetan - violin, Vid. Anoor Vinod Sharma - mridanga and Vid. Sunad Anoor - khanjira.

Daughter of Vid. Bangalore K. Venkataram and Vidu. G.R. Jaya, Kalavati has a natural bond with music since her childhood. A Gold Medallist in M.Music, she was under the tutelage of Vidu. Ushachar and Vid. Anoor Ramakrishna and then under Vidu. Seethalakshmi Venkateshan and P.S. Narayanaswamy of Chennai.

June 19 at 6 pm: Vid. S. R. Vinay will give a vocal concert accompanied by Anirudh Bharadwaj - violin, R. Adamya Ramanand - mridanga and R. Srinidhi Kaundinya - ghata. Merging melody and rhythm is not an easy task. And, Karnatak classical music being rhythmically intensive demands a strong command on the subject. Vinay, who has mastered the intricacies of classical music, was tutored by his mother and later by Seetha Lakshmi, Lalitha Chandramouli and Vid. R.K. Padmanabha.

LOOKING BACK...

Campus life of long ago

Reading about student life now in newspapers and magazines, the mind harks back my own days in Maharaja's College in the University of Mysore in 1955-58; and how different it was for women then. We joined the institution as students, equal with the young men. But the social rules were very different for us then. We had to mind the rules of speech, dress and deportment of "Proper Young Ladies" at all times. We hardly ever spoke to the men students. Stories related by aunts and cousins of previous generations of their co-educational experiences in Mysore and elsewhere, reinforced this belief.

Life in Maharani's College for Girls had been easy for me. But after passing the Intermediate exam there, my mother, Mukta, wanted me to do an Honours course which was offered in Maharaja's College. I wanted to opt for English Literature but she was firm on the subject that I should study. "Take Sociology Honours. This course offers Psychology, Indian Philosophy, Anthropology as well as Sociology which is the Coming Subject which can take you to America for further studies." The course was headed by Professor N.A. Nikam, later Vice-Chancellor of Mysore University.

So I found myself with fourteen other students in a small classroom in a big campus of spreading, beautiful trees. We were accommodated on benches with desks welded to them with metal brackets, a desk and chair in front for the lecturer. We were fifteen of us, seven women and eight young men. I was delighted to find a namesake, Girija Venkatraman, who outshone everyone else with her formidable intellect. Rose, Azizunissa and Kalimullah represented the minority communities; Girija Venkatraman and I were "Tam Brams" (Tamil Brahmins). Saroja, Nagaratnamma, lovely Sachi Devi, Bore Gowda and Basave Gowda were Kannadigas, while two Vishwanaths and Seshadri were Brahmins. While the women sat on one side of the room, the men on the other, there was still some happy camaraderie among us. Nowhere did religion or caste divide us.

In addition to using our own small classroom, we also went to the big BA Hall for classes on subjects like Psychology, Anthropology, compulsory English and second-language classes that we shared with the BA students. Women took up their favourite seats in the right side of the hall. The male students would sit on the left side, beyond the aisle from us. To communicate with the girls, remarks were sometimes written on their favourite desk with a pen. Mukta recounted how in 1920s Madras [now Chennai], a lovely young woman studying medicine, was astonished to find inscribed on her desk. "From the 1st to the 4th of every month you smell of blood." A young man sent her a wrapped gift which she returned. Saddened, he remonstrated, "I only sent you A Shropshire Lad," [a novel of that name by A. E Houseman!!!] More romantic were the poems. One of them began, "A rose, a rose, a rosy rose, On hairy head a woman throws…" and a wish to give the lady-love a rose.

Remarks were made in passing, on the grounds or in the corridors. After my mother cut and styled my hair, a loud remark of "Anglo-Brahmins !", followed me down the steps. At the Dasara Exhibition, Mukta found a cosmetics stall selling "Yolanda", a face powder said to control oily skins and protect against sun. The hue was a pale bright pink. It was instantly noted, "Ivatthuishtu Pinku?" [Why so much pink today?] "More than many coats, kano!"

The library was a serene and silent place that I liked and the other was the "Ladies Room", a large room with some chairs and a welcome bathroom. We could sit and relax but had to show due respect to the senior girls there. I crossed the limit of informality once. The oldest among them was attractive, with green-hazel eyes and a commanding presence who admonished me, "You should respect your elders. I am doing my Sanskrit MA". I was duly chastened.

I remember Professor Nikam's Philosophy classes. He was a fine speaker and commanded respect with his brilliant lectures. He wanted me to do a Thesis on "Hegel and the Welfare State" after the Honours course was over, a daunting task for me at twenty.

Several of the group have passed away, contacts lost. But they each taught me something special about life. Nagaratnamma, a delicate beauty, looked after her parents most dutifully, wishing to serve them as "Seva" [service]! Rose wished to be a teacher, Azizunissa to make a success of her studies in a big college. Shivanna, a top student, was an example of polite good humour. I may not have been receptive to the teachings of Hegel, but each of the comrades in the Class of 1958, young women and men contributed to my understanding of our small and wonderful life as students and later the big world beyond that would try our strengths.

WORD OF THE DAY

Lout

Pronunciation: LOUT.
Meaning: A lout is a person who is both awkward and brutish.
Origin: Lout belongs to a large group of words that we use to indicate a particular sort of offensive and insensitive person, that group also including such terms as boor, oaf, jerk, and churl. We've used lout in this way since the mid-1500s. As early as the 800s, however, lout functioned as a verb with the meaning "to bow in respect." No one is quite sure how—or even if—the verb sense developed into a noun meaning "a brutish person." The noun could have been coined independently, but if its source was the verb, perhaps the awkward posture of one bowing down led over the centuries to the idea that the bowing person was base and awkward as well.
Example: "This is a page-turner about a tough woman and her con-artist lout of a partner, and I will eat my laptop if it doesn't get optioned for TV or film the minute it hits bookshelves." – Molly Young, Vulture, 8 Jan. 2021

THE ODD WORD

Lacunar

Sunken panel or coffer in a ceiling.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Laid out in lavender

Meaning: Prepared for burial. The phrase has also been used to mean 'show something in the best possible light'. There are also reports of its use as meaning 'to criticize or condemn'.
Origin: The allusion is clearly to the practice of strewing lavender or other strong smelling herbs near dead bodies to mask their smell. The term was preceded by the much earlier phrase 'laid up in lavender'. This refers to the storage of clothes etc. with lavender to keep them fresh and free from insect damage - a precursor to mothballs. The practise was referred to in Robert Greene's, A quip for an upstart courtier, 1592. The phrase first printed in A New Dictionary of the Terms Ancient and Modern of the Canting Crew, 1699: "Layd-up-in Lavender, when any Cloaths or other Moveables are pawn'd or dipt for present Money."

QUOTE BOX

Forgiveness is the smell that lavender gives out when you tread on it.

— Mark Twain
